

RESTAURANTS

foobooz

Subscribe
NEWSLETTERS • ACCOUNT • SIGN OUT

NEWS

Bistrot La Minette Announces Closure After 16 Years

Plus: Cantina La Martina expands into Fishtown, where to find Philly's new gluten-free pastry ATM, and Cake Life Bake Shop's NSFV cookie-decorating party.

by JASON SHEEHAN • 6/18/2024, 12:48 p.m.

Devoted foodies and restaurant newbies love Foobooz. Sign up now for our twice weekly newsletter.

EMAIL ADDRESS

SUBSCRIBE

TRENDING

- 1 The Best Restaurants on Washington Avenue
- 2 Philly Bartenders Predict the Hottest Cocktails of Summer 2024
- 3 Your Guide to Philly Coffee Shops Serving Up Great Food
- 4 The 2024 Guide to Dining Down the Shore

Speaking of cocktails, Bolo has a new beverage director. Tony Jimenez hails from Puerto Rico, hit Philly in 2021 and most recently worked the bar at Post Haste. But now he's in charge of the program at Yun Fuentes's Latin American restaurant and rum bar, and he's wasting no time in putting his mark on the menu. The new summer list includes everything from a rum and Chinola riff on the classic daiquiri with lime, red aperitivo, and hibiscus to a Don Q cherry colada and something called a Las Croabas made with gin, chili oil-washed dry vermouth and aji passion ceviche brine, which I'd like three of, served immediately.